

The D IRL*

It's 2022 (wait what?!). The D Show is June 23 @ the Gem Theater. And it's in-person !

(pending new variants, murder hornet migration, political uprisings, national disasters, zombie apocalypses, Ozark premieres, and delayed Door Dash orders).

Now, you all remember where you left your going-out pants, right?

You shake with your right hand, right? You remember your hair dresser's number? Drinking from a glass-glass?

We know the transition can be tricky.

So we'll be right here the whole way between call for entries and last call to help coach you back to IRL.

Start frantically searching your backup drives for files now and prepping your best work because we've committed to doing this.

LIVE. AND IN PERSON.

(All variants must comply with written commitment to withhold any/all mutational activity until after 11pm June 23th)

Get your tickets soon

(those are the things we'll check for admission. No not the vaccine card...well, maybe..)

Can't wait to see you IRL in the D Show.
