

Hatch Awards - RKMF - Elements of Advertising / Music

Producing a video for RKMF video gave us an opportunity to compose our own original track as well. The client wanted something that would capture their earnest, thoughtful spirit... and serve as a kind of auditory signature... something they could use elsewhere in the future.

We reached out to Len Miller at Uncanny Music for help. Len's a veteran in the industry, and was keen to jump in with us. We collaborated over many rounds to find the right tone, feel, and orchestration... and the result was a lovely piece of music that reflected every impulse that drives RKMF's mission.
