

After a $300 million+ renovation, and in the face of increased competition, Southland Casino Hotel needed combat the market’s perception of a tired old gambling hall. The campaign showcases the incredible new property, while cementing its position as a place for guests to be boldly themselves.