

---

CHFA wanted a revised brand to tell a clearer, mission-driven story, filling in some of the gaps that its name had created for its primary audience. But its history—and passionate employee base—couldn't be overlooked. As such, a balance between subtle storytelling, on-the-nose elements, and legacy brand cues had to be struck. The finished logo illustrates the organization's focus on housing opportunities for residents of Connecticut.

---