Connecticut Forum History

To help promote the Connecticut Forum's discussion with historian Jon Meacham, with its themes of history repeating itself, we created portraits of historical figures and how they might look in current times. We also created animations for use in social media and video.